CLAIMANT SIGNA	TURE

Collecting Unemployment Insurance Benefits While Working is a CRIME!

IMPORTANT INFORMATION YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT REPORTING WAGES WAGES: WHAT ARE THEY, WHY DO I NEED TO REPORT THEM AND WHAT HAPPENS IF I DO NOT?

WAGES ARE ANY AND ALL INCOME RECEIVED FROM:

- ✓ Worked Performed
- ✓ Bonuses and Tips
- ✓ Back Pay Awards
- ✓ Part-Time Work
- ✓ International Work: Canada/Abroad

- ✓ Commissions
- ✓ Holiday and/or Vacation Pay
- ✓ Seasonal Work
- ✓ Per Diem Work
- ✓ Cash Earnings

Gross wages must be reported during the week they were earned, not when you receive your pay. The term gross wages refers to the amount of money eared before taxes or any other deductions are taken out.

Once you begin full-time work, you are not elegible to continue receiving unemployment insurance benefits. Depending on when you start working, you may be eligible for partial unemployment insurance benefits. You are required to report earnings as of the first day you begin work, even if you do not receive your pay until a later date. If you do not have a pay stub or your work week is different from our Sunday to Saturday claim week, you will need to calculate your gross wages in order to report them when claiming your benefits.

WHY DO I NEED TO REPORT MY WAGES?

When claiming benefits, you must report any wages you may have earned for that week. Why? Your employer submits information about newly hired employees, including the first day of work, to the U.S. Virgin Islands, which in turn is passed on to the Division of Unemployment Insurance. The Division performs a cross-match of new hire information against all claimants who certify for unemployment insurance benefits. The Benefit Payment Control Unit within the Division also compares the wages reported by you to those wages reported by your employer during the same time period and conflicting information is assigned to an investigator for resolution.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I DO NOT REPORT MY WAGES?

If you receive benefits to which you were not entitled, you will be responsible for repaying the benefits that you received. If you are found to have collected benefits fraudulently, you will incur interest and penalities and you will be disqualified from the receipt of unemployment insurance benefits for one year. In addition, you may be prosecuted criminally, face additional penalities and possible jail time.

PLEASE CONTACT THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, DIVISION OF UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT REPORTING WAGES
